Steady SAFE Success

BLOCK CLUBS

Less than a week following a Project SAFE block club meeting on a street in Ingleside Terrace, an elderly woman saw and reported at mid-day two burglars entering a home behind hers. She called the police, reported a burglary in progress and watched as police quickly arrived and arrested one of the suspects.

From the family whose home would have been burglarized she received the next day a florist's Christmas bouquet and a note of thanks saying "...You saved us from a great deal of sorrow."

Several other examples of "victories" have been brought about by Project SAFE block clubs in the OMI. Bringing neighbors together in an effort to protect each other's person and property is what SAFE, a federally funded program through the S.F. Police Department, is all about.

OMI residents Gwen Dilworth has been the SAFE Neighborhood Coordinator for the Ingleside Police District since last April. Since that time she has overseen the formation of nearly 50 block clubs. She believes the program is essentially one of self-help.

"What this program can potentially do is empower people to reduce crime in their own community," she said. "Once people learn what steps they can take to make change happen, that in itself has made the program effective."

Dilworth also talked of the "victories" of another block club, which after meeting several times was able to have police patrols increased on their block and led police to investigate a home with much late-night noise and a great deal of suspicious traffic. A drug bust ended a major annoyance for neighbors on that block.

"From mutual concern came the belief of the people in that neighborhood that they could indeed make a change on their block," she said. "But this project is not a miracle cure. These changes only came after months of neighbors working among themselves and with police."

OCEAN AVENEWS

As you speed along Ocean Avenue, bound for some other location, take time to slow down and notice some brand new storefronts in the 1500 block near Miramar. Improved according to the Architectural Guide Standards approved by the Merchants Association are the following businesses: Top Hat Cleaners, Nichols Locksmith, Dr. Soss' optometry office, Leonard's Bar-B-Que, as well as Dr. Thurml Banks' office. (Notice Grand Auto's new colors and signs, too — a special treatment for their Ocean Avenue store!) These merchants are to be applauded for being the forerunners of the new Ocean Avenue image — patronize them if you can!!

HCI, in cooperation with Wells Fargo Bank, is now also offering 6% loans for storefront renovation to either owner or tenants on the street. 30 new trash receptacles bearing the Merchants Association logo will also be installed soon. Cross-walk repaving and entrance signs will follow. All these improvements have or will be realized with Federal Community Development funding.

HUD's new Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) program is also being considered by HCI and the City as the source of funds to possibly underground all utilities on Ocean, encourage the development of the commercial parcel on Homewood Terrace with community involvement and provide for additional parking through acquisition of sites for parking lots, or through creation of diagonal side street parking. HCI, the Department of City Planning and the Mayor's Office of Community Development are now involved in preparing this application.

The tide is beginning to turn on Ocean Avenue after all!

It IS Shaping Up

1977 Brought Bufano Peace Symbol to OMI

Benamino Bufano's famous statue, St. Francis of the Guns, commemorating peace and brotherhood, depicts four slain leaders, Abraham Lincoln, John F. Kennedy, Robert Kennedy, and Martin Luther King, Jr., graces the front of City College's Science Building, facing Phelan Avenue.

Made from approximately 2000 melted down arms, gathered by the former Mayor Joseph Alioto during a voluntary "no questions asked" collection of firearms. Bufano had them melted into three 50 gallon

This service for the OMI residents was established because of complaints regarding lack of health services in the OMI, and the difficulty some residents have in getting to the Silver Avenue location.

Miss Panni is available for consultation on all health problems. She will help with information on where to and how to get help, nutrition, and how to keep well.

Films and workshops on specific health problems can be arranged for these Wednesday morning sessions. Bring in your questions and problems January 4, 11, 19 and 25. Materials on health subjects are available, covering a wide variety of subjects related to health.

To The People Of the OMI Community

by Roy Jackson President of the OMI-CA

Here is hoping that you had a very Merry Christmas. And a happy and prosperous New Year to all of you!

I had a very pleasant holiday. My daughter, Suzanne and her son Rafiki came up from Los Angeles to have dinner with my wife Anne (Mrs. J) and her father, Oscar Butler who is 95 years young. Together we had a merry time with lots of egg nog and other spirits.

We also had visiting with us my wife's niece from St. Louis, Missouri whom I had not seen for some twenty years. All in all it was a joyous time.

As I have said many times before, it has been a joy and a challenge to me to serve as your president of your OMI-CA for the past four years. I can only say that I have learned an awful lot and even if I did not contribute very much, I did the best I could.

We are having our annual business meeting on January 28, for the purpose of reporting to you, our membership, the accomplishments of our committees in serving our community, as well as electing officers. Please be present to cast your vote and also to join in our potluck dinner. I do hope that you will be as cooperative with your newly elected officers as you have been with the present — and more so.

In the coming year let us become more aware of the need to be united in our efforts for the community and its needs. Let our voices be heard throughout the community and the City. With the right (devoted) elected officers and the concern of all the community in a united effort we will accomplish our goals. Let's get in there and make the OMI-CA do the job that it was intended for.

Join with me to ask God to grant us the "serenity to accept the things we cannot change, the courage to change the things we can, and the wisdom to know the difference."

Your servant of the community,
Roy D. Jackson

YOU AND THE WEST BAY HSA

The West Bay Health Systems Agency (WBHSA) has finally arrived and shortly will be a familiar name to many. For this agency has or will be granted the powers to:

Fund special health service projects in San Francisco, Marin and San Mateo counties.

Review all proposed hospital and health clinic expansions or services or expenditure of funds.

The WBHSA will have major impact on the billions of health dollars spent in the tri-counties. The agency has the power to review expenditure of funds which means it will be approving or denying proposed health expenditures.

In November, the West Bay H.S.A. sponsored a series of public hearings to solicit comments on health needs in San Francisco. I co-chaired the hearing closest to the OMI area which was held at the District 3, Southeast Health Center on November 22, 1977. Although poorly attended, the comments were very revealing. For your information, listed are a few of the highlights of the testimony.

- Community representatives from this area generally complained about the lack of accessible hospital-based out-patient and emergency services in neighborhoods such as Bernal Heights, the Ingleside and Visitacion Valley.

- Need for better coordination and lack of continuity in health services among both private and public health facilities and program.

- A strong concern was expressed about the high cost of health care.

THE WEST BAY HEALTH SYSTEMS AGENCY

Since all of us are concerned about receiving quality health care at a reasonable cost, it behooves us to take a personal interest in the development of the West Bay H.S.A.

If your sentiments aren't included in these comments, contact the Agency and express yourself. In addition, membership in the West Bay HSA is free and open to all persons 18 years or older. There are three types of membership; general, member of the Sub Area Council and a member of the Governing Body. As a general member, you can participate on review panels, vote for Sub Area Council members and work on committees. So don't delay, contact the East Bay HSA, 215 Market St., San Francisco, CA. 94105, phone 543-4930. MAKE IT WORK FOR YOU.

BURL TOLER NAMED TO POLICE COMMISSION

by Pamela Collett

The OMI NEWS congratulates Burl Toler, Merced Heights resident and OMI Community Association member, on his recent appointment to the Police Commission by Mayor Moscone. Toler served for many years as teacher, principal and administrator in the San Francisco School system. Presently he is associate director of certificated services of the San Francisco Community College District.

Burl Toler has been a resident of the OMI since 1960 and a member of the OMI Community Association for the past ten years. His concerns are and always have been to contribute to the interests of the community. He entered the field of education because of his desire to better people's lives by helping them realize their potential. He is bringing to the Police Commission a sincere concern for people's welfare as shown in his 24 years as an educator.

In an interview with the OMI NEWS, Toler repeatedly stressed his desire to service the community and the entire city. He believes the Police Commission should serve as a vehicle for people to express their concerns. Everyone should be heard and any complaints they have should be taken seriously. Every community in San Francisco is important and all deserve equal protection.

Toler urges the OMI community to keep him informed. "I'm here to help in any way possible." Let him know of your concerns. Toler's philosophy is — if we have a problem, hopefully we can find a solution.

MAILBOX

Dear Ms. Garabedian:

I read George Fulmore's articles on the supervisory election with interest. I thought, for the most part, they were well written, and that the juxtaposition of Mr. Covington's reaction to finishing second was of particular interest.

The second paragraph of "The Runner-Up Comments" (page four) alluded to potentially intriguing glimpses into the background of the campaign.

It is the third paragraph, however, which is of concern to me. Mr. Covington is quoted there as saying that his opponent won because "racism won out."

Now, "racism" and being a racist are pretty serious charges to make against an elected public official. Mr. Covington is free to make such charges. But it is incumbent on him to prove them.

In the OMI News article Mr. Covington offers no proof, sets forth no facts, but simply slanders his opponent, Mr. Dolson, and everyone who voted for him. Perhaps it is conceivable that everyone who voted for Lee Dolson, Mike Nolan, etc. (in fact, everyone who didn't vote for Bob Covington) is a racist. But I find it hard to believe.

I believe it is the responsibility of the OMI News to probe and clarify such a charge if it is to be printed. Without a display of integrity and more competent journalism, the OMI News can easily become the platform from which any interviewee may hurl any charge. That hardly seems the proper role for a respected community newspaper.

Sincerely,
DENNIS KELLY

TRAINING FOR A GROWING FIELD

The disabled minority represents a recently emerging political force. Last spring, handicapped persons and their supporters demonstrated across the nation. As a result, Section 504 of the 1973 Rehabilitation Act was signed into law, and the handicapped gained job, housing and public access rights.

With these gains have come increased job opportunities in social service fields dealing with the disabled, particularly in Rehabilitation Counseling.

San Francisco State University offers a graduate training program in Rehabilitation Counseling leading to the M.S. degree. Applications are now being accepted for the Fall, 1978 semester according to Dr. William Evraiff, chair of the University's Department of Counseling. This two-year program is open to applicants with a bachelor's degree who are interested in helping persons with physical, emotional and social handicaps to lead more fulfilling lives.

Additional information may be obtained from the Department of Counseling, Room 316, Education Building, San Francisco State University, 1600 Holloway Ave., San Francisco 94132; telephone (415) 469-2005.

GET A CERTIFICATE IN BUSINESS MANAGEMENT

Beginning in February, business and industry employees will be able to improve their skills and increase their job potential through a new program leading to a Certificate of Business Management. The program is being offered by the four Bay Area campuses of the California State University and Colleges, and is for people who want to become managers and for managers who are looking for promotion or improved job skills.

Courses for the certificate will be given at San Francisco State University; San Jose State University; California State University, Hayward; and Sonoma State College. All courses will be taught by regular faculty members.

The program consists of nine courses of 20 hours each. Such courses as "A Manager's Guide to Human Behavior" and "Computer Basics for Managers" provide non-specialists with the techniques and background for making knowledgeable business and management decisions.

The first courses begin the week of February 13. A second term starts March 27.

San Francisco State Scene

by NKD

Two significant conferences concerned with the human condition and its ills occur this month on the San Francisco State University campus.

A one-day meeting, "The Network of Services for Families, Children and Youth," is scheduled Wednesday, January 11. The two-day workshop, "The Causes & Treatment of Psychosomatic Diseases," will be conducted Friday and Saturday, January 13 and 14.

Mayor George Moscone and San Francisco State's President Paul F. Romberg are slated to give opening remarks at the January 11 conference concerning children and their problems. All people who serve youngsters and their families are encouraged to attend. This workshop costs $4 and is conducted by the University's Department of Social Work Education; phone 469-1003 for additional information.

The Psychosomatic Workshop on January 13 and 14 is open to the public and will be of particular interest to such licensed professionals as physicians, nurses, psychologists, social workers and nursing home administrators. It is sponsored by the University's Division of Continuing Education and coordinated by Dr. Harold Geist, lecturer in Psychology.

"Almost everyone is touched by psychosomatic disease, suffering pain for no apparent reason," Dr. Geist says. "People who haven't been the victim of such diseases themselves probably have family or friends who have. We're all liable to get some kind of psychosomatic illness at some point in our lives." For more information, call 469-1371.

DRAMA & FILMS FORTHCOMING: The first Spring Semester drama presentation from Theater Arts is "A Kid's Midsummer Night's Dream" in a lively new musical version February 25 and 26, with two matinee performances each date. It is directed by Dr. William (Bo) Westerfield who adapted the fantasy with Don Stitt, composer of the original score.

According to Cinematheque-coordinator John Webber, instructor in Film, the major movie presentations will be on Wednesday and Friday evenings, with some additional afternoon screenings at 12:30 p.m.

The choice of features will center around films from courses in the instructional program. Included on the early February program will be Alfred Hitchcock's "North by Northwest" (1959); Francois Truffaut's "Day for Night" (1975); and Ingmar Bergman's "Cries and Whispers" (1972).

RADIO-MUSIC: The KQED-FM radio program, "Music of the Italian Masters," from the Univeristy-based Frank V. de Bellis Collection and produced by Serena de Bellis, curator, brings a number of lesser-known Giuseppe Verdi operas to the air on Sundays at 4 p.m. at 88.5 on the dial. The Verdi program this month will include: "Il Cosaro" on January 8; "La battaglia de Legnano" on January 15; "Stiffelio" and "Arnoldo" on January 22; and "I Vespri siciliani" on January 29.

The de Bellis Collection of books, records and musical scores is located on the sixth floor of the J. Paul Leonard Library. The phone is 469-1649.

60-PLUS: The University's self-governing group for retired and semi-retired men and women, Sixty-Plus, has made a $400 scholarship available to support students enrolled in the Applied Gerontology Certificate Program. Sixty-Plus, with a membership fee of $25 annually, participates in bi-weekly lectures, tours and social sessions. It also carries library privileges.

ST. MICHAEL'S PAPER DRIVE

St. Michael's Parent Teacher Group will sponsor a recycling center on the weekend of January 14 and 15, 9:30 to 5:30 accepting paper and aluminum cans only. Bring your recyclables to the school yard, 32 Broad St. For more information call 586-5522.

ST. MICHAEL'S GOAL — $4,000

January 26, 1978 will mark the beginning of St. Michael's annual "World's Finest Chocolate" drive. Last year Sister Enda, Principal of St. Michael's School, in conjunction with the P.T.G., raised $4,000 profit because the students did such an excellent job of selling the product.

The bar is real milk chocolate with whole roasted almonds, it contains no chemical additives and will sell for $1.00 . . . quite a bargain when you consider that the label is redeemable for $1.00 off when you buy two whole submarine sandwiches at a Viking Submarine Sandwich Shop. The nearest Viking Sandwich Shop is located on Ocean at Plymouth.

The drive will run through the first two weeks of February. People interested in helping should call the school at 585-4781.

INTERNATIONAL FOLK DANCE

A new class in International Folk Dancing is scheduled to begin on Tuesday, January 10, 1978, at the Brotherhood Way Center, located at 655 Brotherhood Way.

Sessions are set for Tuesdays. Basic beginning dances will be taught from 8:00 p.m. to 9:15 p.m., to be followed by refreshments and request dancing until 10:30 p.m. There is no fee for members of the Jewish Community Center, and $1.50 per night for non-members.

For more information call Jamie Kaufman at 334-7474.

SCHOOL REDESIGN

A series of public meeting will be held at local schools to discuss the Educational Redesign proposed by the Board of Education. These meetings are planned to answer some of the questions that both parents and students will have, such as: What will the redesign proposal do if implemented? How will education be improved? and How much will redesign proposal save if it is implemented?

OMI residents will be interested in the meetings at A.P. Giannini Jr. High, 3151 Ortega, Jan. 7 Sat. at 10 a.m.; Herbert Hoover Jr. High, 2290 - 14th Ave., January 9 Mon. 7 p.m.; Commodore Sloat Elem., 50 Darien Way, January 18 Wed. 7 p.m. For information on meetings in other areas and times, call SFUSD Information Office, 565-9388.

The OMI-CA Education Committee will report briefly on the redesign plan at the Annual Meeting, January 28, aimed at setting up a study committee to develop a possible OMI-CA position.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND GRANTS

Senator John F. Foran (Dem-San Francisco/San Mateo) announced that State Scholarship and Grant applications for the 1978-79 academic year are now available at his District Office, 755-1766.

The undergraduate awards, available through the California Student Aid Commission, include the State Scholarship (Cal Grant A); College Opportunity Grant (Cal Grant B); and the Occupational Education and Training Grant (Cal Grant C).

"I urge anyone who is interested to apply. High school students and college freshmen, sophomores and juniors from low and middle income families are eligible for State Scholarships. Many people who thought they didn't have a chance have obtained the awards in the past. The scholarship provides tuition assistance at private two-year and four-year institutions and at public four-year colleges," Foran said.

Filing deadline for the three Cal Grant competitions is February 1, 1978.

BROOKS PARK DEVELOPMENT CONTINUES

Working hard building picnic tables and benches at work party, chaired by Lonnie Lawson, Jr., December 3 are: Chester Toney, I.T. Bookman and Norm Dorn. Also working that day were Roy Jackson, George Fulmore, Issac Reid, Eleanor Siden, James Jenkin, James Sallier and Margaret Dorn. Improvements will continue during 1978. Local labor (including the manufacture of the cement boxes) has made it possible to get more out of the funds allotted to the project.

SAFE Project

SAFE OFFICE OPEN

Project SAFE has just opened an office at 1345 Ocean Avenue in the Ingleside Presbyterian Church. Staffed by five coordinators, including former OMI NEWS editor George Fulmore, the office will be open Monday through Friday. Other SAFE coordinators are Janet Raffle, Jerry Nalls, and Vivian Stern Turner.

Persons interested in beginning a block club or wanting more information on other SAFE programs, such as Operation Identification and the home security check, should call the Ingleside SAFE office at 239-8500. There are no charges for any SAFE services.

PLANS BEGIN FOR DR. KING'S BIRTHDAY

Planning a birthday party can be as much fun as the party itself, but it means working ahead.

The birthday of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. deserves special attention. The San Francisco Council of Churches is providing that, and needs help from OMI residents.

Anyone who would like to take part — in the music, the art work, the telephone calls, envelope stuffing or general planning — may get in touch with Donnetter Lane, executive director of the Council, at 433-3024, or Montford Cardwell, program chairman for the council, at 621-5379.

LUCKY COMING TO OMI

Lucky Stores, Inc. has signed a letter of intent to open a "discount center" in the Payless Shopping Center on Alemany Avenue at Arch Street in the OMI.

A Lucky spokesperson said that by as early as this spring the company plans to open in the building formerly occupied by Albertson's Market. Lucky, which has more than 100 stores in Northern California, has only three stores in San Francisco. The spokesperson said that the company was pleased to find such a good location, since the city has a lack of much available real estate.

As part of the agreement, Payless, the property owner, has agreed to upgrade and modernize the exterior of the entire building.

In addition to food, the Lucky "discount center" will include departments of clothing, auto accessories, cosmetics and household goods.

PILGRIM REPORT

Now that Christmas is over, I know everybody has had a very Merry Christmas. Happy New Year!!

The theme for the entire month of December, 1977 for Pilgrim Community Church was the sermon, "Love Came Down." We at Pilgrim enjoyed our visitors. Welcome, come again.

The year came to an end with the birth of two Pilgrimites, a baby boy for the Stitt family, their first; and a baby girl for the Sims family, bringing their total to two boys and two girls.

Congratulations to our own lovely Ms. June Black, who is appearing in the Play "Purlie." Pilgrim Community, please support June by attending her performance at the Phoenix Theater every Wednesday thru Sunday.

Old Times

by Marsha Fontes

In the 1870's Cornelius Staggs arrived on the San Francisco scene. Little is known about the man other than he bought the Ocean View Racing and Riding Park near Lake Merced and later built the Ingleside Inn. Both of these illustrious establishments were on Ocean Road.

Ocean Road, the scene of most of the really serious gambling in San Francisco, (far away from the law), was thick with horse racing tracks, dog tracks, boxing camps, road houses — all dedicated to the principle that you can get something for nothing if the odds are right and your luck holds.

Well, Cornelius Staggs became modestly rich off these gambling fools — providing them with food, drink, lodging and excitement. He hosted the most famous, longest and most exciting horse race in San Francisco history.

In 1873, The Ocean View Racing and Driving Park, built by Colonel Dicky in the 1860's, staged a four mile heat and repeat horse race that attracted so many participants that the winning horse, Thad Stevens, had to run 16 miles to claim the victory. They made stout horses in those days.

It was reported that 50,000 spectators attended the meet and the Green family, local farmers, made a fortune shuttling the people from the end of the #12 trolley, the track at Lake Merced. And the story goes that the traffic jam after the race yielded the Greens another fortune in broken carriages, runaway horses, lost wallets and other valuable flotsam.

In the late 80's Staggs built a small lovely Swiss Chalet on the corner of Ocean Ave. and Junipero Serra Blvd. and called it the Ingleside Inn. Later he moved this cottage and built an even larger establishment to accommodate his growing business. Unfortunately the new building burned down shortly after and the old cottage was moved back to its original place and business was as usual, hardly a day missed.

Staggs met an untimely death a few years later when he was murdered one dark night by the infamous Bicycle Bandit who took Staggs' money and shot the poor man. The Bandit was never caught and the only clues were the treadmarks of his bicycle in the dust at the front of the Inn.

The Inn was taken over after Staggs death by Barney Farley, the gentleman who owned the boxing training camp across the street. This Inn survived until the late 1920's, when Henry Peese bought the lot and built an Associated Station to accommodate the booming auto population in the area.

Mr. Peese*, a local resident, ran an extraordinary service station. We have it on a good authority that when his family's Stutz pulled up to the pumps, not less than five attendents swarmed out to service the auto. Mr. Peese had style!

In 1975, after various, lesser, stations, Glendale Federal Savings and Loan of Glendale, Californisa, bought the lot for a three story office building and branch office. The building, now under construction, will be completed in the near future.

The corner has had an exciting, stylish history and the community is looking forward to Glendale continuing that reputation.

*Please contact the OMI office — 584-8188 or Marsha Fontes — 584-5703 if you have information on Mr. Peese.

Fontes Slide Program at Merced Library

On Wednesday evening, January 18, 7 p.m. Marsha Fontes will present a slide program on Southwestern San Francisco and its history at the Merced Branch Library, 155 Winston Drive (opposite Stonestown).

Mrs. Fontes, who writes the OLD TIMES column for the OMI News, will review the history of Ingleside Terrace, Lakeside Village and Lake Merced.

Mrs. Fontes is a resident of Ingleside Terrace.

OCEAN VIEW LIBRARY NEW LOOK

The Ocean View Branch of the San Francisco Public Library has been freshly painted and has now reopened for use by the community. The new paint makes the public area look bright and inviting, and the space available for use has been extended as well. Come in and see!

Two film programs for children will be presented Thursday, January 26 at 2:00 p.m. for pre-schoolers and 4:00 p.m. for children six years and older. The Ocean View Branch is located at 111 Broad Street.

NEW SERVICE FOR HARRIED PARENTS

CRIME PREVENTION ALERT

Protect yourself against crime by practicing these basic safety tips. When you go out, make sure your home is locked and secure. Give it a lived in appearance by leaving a light on and a radio playing. Be aware of others in your vicinity when entering or exiting your home, especially when transporting items to and from the car. When giving parties, open your door only to those who are invited. When you go shopping, carry only a minimal amount of currency. Keep cash and important documents on your person, not in your purse or wallet. Carry only those credit cards which you will be using. If credit cards are stolen report the loss immediately. Halt all further transactions even if notified that they have been found. Women should carry their purses under their arms. Don't dangle it. If the purse is grabbed, don't hang on to it. What's inside is not worth the risk of injury. Attempt to obtain a description or other information which will help the police department apprehend the suspect.

Men should carry their wallets in their inside coat pockets to deter pickpockets. Be alert in crowds and check your valuables if bumped or distracted. When shopping with children, keep them within sight and provide them with a means to be identified, should you become separated.

Both drivers and pedestrians must take caution as they move through the city streets. Make sure doors and windows are properly secured when driving as well as when the car is parked. Never keep valuable items visible on the seats of your car; lock them in the trunk. Be careful when you return from parties. A drunk driver can ruin the evening with one turn of the wheel.

CAROLING WITH SANTA IN THE TERRACES

Santa's Carolers (Hank Gomez & Friends) wish to thank Ingleside Terraces homes for the open and generous way we were received Christmas Eve in just about 2 hours of caroling. A few homes invited us in and served us eggnog and christmas goodies and much to Santa's surprise his coat pockets were "stuffed" with 11 ones and 2 five dollar bills — which were donated to the OMI News — since December and January are very "slow" months for the paper. The most popular request was our theme song "Feliz Navidad, Prospero Ano y Felicidad," "I wanna wish you a Merry Christmas & a Happy New Year, too"

Missing: Bob Gomez, Bette Landis, and daughter Carol Negro and yours truly Santa. Coincidentally there were 21 carolers and 21 dollars was the total donated — Hey, welcome January's new Namestreakers.
